£1 fee for each game, unless otherwise stated, subsidising the cost of the zine

START

Welcome to issue #156, smallest than usual due to some held over games. The missing games are Acquire 51, Industrial Waste 1 and Saint Petersburg 2. Gina Teh is one of those out of contact at the moment, as she had a major computer failure and is waiting for a new machine. The other is Tony Wilcock, who is a paper recipient, so I don't know whether the zine got lost on its way to him, his orders got lost coming back, or something else happened.

Tony's absence has also prompted a delayed start for the next Acquire game.

18XX BASES

This note is for 18xx players. I put a note in four months ago about non-operating bases being shown in grey rather than black, and nobody commented until this month, when some people found they didn't show up terribly well. Actually, they thought the bases were missing entirely from the maps. That was my mistake for using the screen to check visibility, but it was surprising that it took this long for anyone to report a problem. To resolve this I am now showing non-operating base letters in red.

TRINGCON

TringCon XVII is just around the corner, all set for Saturday October 4th. We have 19 definites and 3 maybes signed up for the event, but on past experience the final tally will be around the 40 mark.

For those who don't know, TringCon is a one-day games event held close to Tring, running from 9am to 9pm. Inaugurated many years ago by Alan Parr, I took it over last year and then had the audacity to move it to my local village hall. However, this gives us more space, a higher ceiling and a better kitchen, not to mention a lower hire charge.

The cost for the day remains the same at £10, which gets you in the door and feeds you throughout the day. If you're interested, then do contact me to book a space. Pre-booking helps us to measure the amount of food we need to buy for the event. As proceeds from the event go to the Iain Rennie Hospice at Home charity, the less we waste on food the more there is for the charity.

The games you play depend largely on the games you bring. You know what you like, so take the opportunity to get your favourite games onto the table.

I will also have my Heron Games hat on for the day, with a selection of games on offer. Anyone who wants to buy anything specific is advised to pre-order for collection on the day.

TringCon takes place at the Marsworth Millennium Hall. ⚙

John wanted to check exactly what happened when a private company closes when using the PC rule, and is right to do so. In the standard game, private companies that close still count towards a player's total at the end of the game. Under the PC rule, when they are closed they are removed from the game and do not count towards anyone's value.

The B&M, Erie and NYC bases hadn't disappeared from the map, but they were harder to read. I made a change four months ago to show non-operating bases in grey, but it was more visible on screen than when printed. I've changed that to red now, so hopefully they can be seen more easily.

OR3 - OR4

Please note that I have never been comfortable with tile laying orders that say 'lay anything to connect me to this point'. This seems unfair to people who take time to consider the possibilities, and can also leave me having to choose between two or more different ways to make the connection. I am not supposed to be choosing your track but building to your orders. On that basis, I don't make those choices. The counter-argument is that you don't know what has been laid. The general solution is to give conditional orders based on which connections for your target are available, such as if there is track to the west edge of this hex, do this, otherwise do that. That is part of what the postal game is about.

When running a train to the Ruhr off-board area, which doubles the value of cities, remember that it only doubles the cities, not the small value towns on the route. For example, the B&O ran from G11 (80) through H12 (10) and I13 (50), terminating in the Ruhr area. This doubles the cities in G11 and I13, but does not double the town in H12.

6 NIMMT! 13

All done here, with the next one ready to get started.

GAME OVER

1st	John Colledge	27
2nd	Bob Coull	31
3rd	Michael Graystone	49
4th	Kevin lee	51
5th	Don Shailer	52
6th	Colin Sharpe	67

John Colledge (1st): Good grief! I've won a game of 6 nimmt! That didn't take long..... like only the best part of 20 years! Now, if I could only do as well in my Acquire games...

Thanks for running that game Keith, and now that I have finally unravelled the mysteries of the game, it seems only right and proper that I should join another.

Bob Coull (2nd): I was disappointed to fall from pole position in the very last round. When I sent in my final orders I made the comment "for hand 1, I shut my eyes and selected a card at random!", and so it transpired that my one random guess let me down. I wanted to console myself that by playing the cards the other way round it wouldn't have mattered, but to my utter frustration, not only would I have avoided picking up 7, but it would have resulted in John picking up 7 and I would have won by 10 points. OUCH... I am not a bitter man, honest.

Colin Sharpe (6th): Thirty-five penalty points of my forty-eight in the last two rounds!!!!???

I suppose I was lucky they weren't in the earlier rounds, which they could well have been. Oh well, the luck of the draw!

Thanks all for the fun of it as usual.

Wow, it's taken John 20 years to win a game of 6 nimmt! The first 6 years were not a surprise, as the game wasn't released until 1994, so it must have seemed a lot longer than it actually was!

5th	Tony Sait	2,371	10.4%

Rob Thomasson (2nd): Well, given that I screwed up right at the start I am pleased to finish second. It was a long road back but it came good at the right time. Lyndon had the tempo from early on so it did seem that second was my best realistic finish and I was fortunate to be able to limit the earnings of others with garrisons by the BBG & CGR. Thanks to all and especially Keith for hosting.

Thanks once again for what looked like a good game from my side of the fence.

It was a very tight final round, which saw KILT leading after run 34, HOOTS after run 35, and GREAT taking over after the all-important final run.

1st	Michael Graystone	GREAT	309
2nd	Jim Reader	HOOTS	305
3rd	Don Shailer	KILT	296
4th	Kevin Lee	PEAR	293

Don ignored my comments about the Forth Bridge last time, referring to it by name but still giving it the wrong name - the Fourth Bridge. It's a good job he wasn't running his trains by SatNav, as that route wouldn't have been found.

Congratulations to Michael on a close win, and commiserations to those who were only just off the pace - which was everyone else. Round up will take place next month.

GAME OVER

1st	Michael Graystone	GREAT	428
2nd	Tony Sait	GITCO	406
3rd	Colin Sharpe	COLIN	374

Colin Sharpe (COLIN, 3rd): Not having played the map before, which I believe the other two had, I made the initial mistake by not building to Exeter, so lost getting into the 1s and 2s early or far enough to compete effectively. Getting into some of the other sectors first helped but did not give a monopoly to make up for the lack of network to the other two sectors. I'm pleased to have pulled up so much in the last round, but it was never going to be enough.

Thanks to all and Keith for the experience!

The other two had indeed played the map before, although that isn't always a guarantee of good performance.

NEW GAME

Welcome to the latest Railway Rivals game, which will take place in Northern Germany.

Tony Bromley	14 Fairlawnes, Manor Road, Wallington, Surrey, SM6 8BG
Pete Campbell	39 Water Street, Cambridge, CB4 1NZ
Bob Coull	1 Lingfield House, Lancaster Street, London, SE1 0RW
Jim Reader	4835 Lexington Court, Center Valley, PA18034, USA
Don Shailer	8 Clifton Green, Aylesbury, Bucks, HP19 3JW

Maps are enclosed for all. Your starting choices are Hannover (two), Hamburg (two) and Berlin (one). The Berlin starter should specify West Berlin or East Berlin.

I wasn't able to include the key for payments on the map, so I'll summarise them here.

Rivers (light blue) are +2 to cross. Estuaries and lakes (dark blue) cannot be crossed - but note the pre-built bridges by Stralsund and Westerland. These can be used as if they were normal terrain. Marsh hexes (tufted green stuff) cost +1 per half hex, hills (orange borders) cost +2 per half hex. The black borders are international borders and do not affect building costs. Note that for the international destinations of Denmark, The Netherlands and Poland, you must connect to the red dot hexes, not just any hex across the border.

Some of the town names completely obscure a few hex sides. Where this happens, those hex sides have no additional features that affect building costs.

For the ferries to Denmark or Sweden, connect to Kiel or the appropriate red dot hex, then pay 6 points off your account to buy the ferry, regardless of the length of the ferry route. If you want to use another player's ferry during the runs, you pay them 5 points for the privilege, once again regardless of the length.

ROBORALLY 3

ROUND 1

With everyone starting off as a virtual bot, there is really no need to worry about the program card priorities, as you can all do your own thing, but I'll report it as if it was a normal round so that you can see how I plan to report the game. The bot names you've chosen or been given are in the table at the end of the report. Individual positions will not be given after each turn. You can play it through to check exactly what happened.

Starting positions

Diddy-bot C3-South, Rog-bot, Pineapple 196, Squelch, Bot-i-celli and Donsbot C3-East

1.1
Squelch {320-RR}, Rog-bot {650-M1}, Donsbot {670-M2}, Diddy-bot {750-M2}, Bot-i-celli {770-M2}, Pineapple 196 {800-M3}.

1.2
Squelch {190-RL}, Diddy-bot {410-RL}, Bot-i-celli {660-M1}, Rog-bot {730-M2}, Donsbot {790-M3}, Pineapple 196 {830-M3}.

Board effects: Pineapple 196 conveyed to E9.

1.3
Pineapple 196 {130-RL}, Donsbot {300-RR}, Bot-i-celli {530-M1}, Diddy-bot {580-M1}, Rog-bot {780-M2}, Squelch {840-M3}.

Board effects: Bot-i-celli conveyed to A7, Pineapple 196 conveyed to F8.

1.4
Pineapple 196 {230-RL}, Diddy-bot {280-RR}, Bot-i-celli {350-RL}, Rog-bot {420-RR}, Donsbot {760-M2}, Squelch {810-M3}.

Board effects: Bot-i-celli conveyed to A9, Squelch conveyed to E9, Pineapple 196 conveyed to A7.

1.5
Donsbot {120-RR}, Bot-i-celli {270-RL}, Rog-bot {440-BU}, Squelch {460-BU}, Pineapple 196 {500-M1}, Diddy-bot {740-M2}.

Board effects: Bot-i-celli conveyed to C9. Donsbot, Squelch and Pineapple 196 update their archive to E8.

End of turn effects

Donsbot, Squelch and Pineapple 196 pick up option cards.

Donsbot gets Double Barrel Laser - he now does two damage when he fires and hits. Squelch gets Abort Switch - can be used at any time in a turn. Once activated, current and future program cards for the round are ignored, with future actions based on random draws from the deck.

Pineapple 196 gets Reverse Gears - he may now choose to back-up 2 spaces when playing a back-up card. This needs to be ordered, or a back-up card will move you just one space. Diddy-bot, Rog-bot and Bot-i-celli lose their virtual status. The others remain virtual.

If anyone ends up on a double-wrench space without saying if they want an option card, my default will be to repair if they have two or more points of damage, and take an option card otherwise.

You can choose to take damage on an option card instead of yourself, which destroys the option. You need to tell me if and when you want to do this.

When you draw up your orders, by all means miss out what type of card you are playing, but please do not omit the card's priority number, which is much more important.

PREVIEW

The new Acquire game didn't start, as Tony Wilcock has not been in touch. Rather than drop him or start with him and find there is a longer term problem, I decided to delay the start. That is now scheduled for next month, together with 6 nimmt! and Bus Boss.

I should have started the e-mail opening round of the 1837 round by the time you read this. All I needed to do was to send the first message to get the ball rolling, after that it will run as fast as the availability of the players allows. The trick was getting that first message off.

Here's the plan for new games due to start in the next issue.

#157: 6 nimmt!, Acquire [Standard], Bus Boss [Morocco]
